The Slavery and Trafficking Risk Template \(STRT\) is a free, open-source data collection template that forms the backbone of corporate modern slavery due diligence programs. It is maintained by a Development Committee committed to ensuring it keeps stride with new research and evolving industry needs. It is housed under the Social Responsibility Alliance, an initiative dedicated to providing companies with the open-source data collection tools they need to build socially responsible supply chains. Details can be read at <https://www.socialresponsibilityalliance.org/resource/W-STRT-Overview-230217.pdf>
